

Graph Report Guidelines

- Your report should explain what your project is about and why you chose it
- Your report should include all the data your group collected.
- Your report should include how you collected your data.
- Your report should include graphs of the data collected.
- Your report should include a generalized summary of the results of your data collection.

There is no minimum requirement for the report. The only requirements are those listed above. Make sure that your report thoroughly explains your project.